WHITE WINES

White wines are often considered more refreshing, and lighter in both style and taste.
Ranging from crisp, with light, airy flavours, to rich and full-bodied, white wines are the perfect choice for fine dining.

ITALIAN RED WINES

RED WINES OF TUSCANY

Tuscany, with its rolling hills and gorgeous Italian villas is one of the most beautiful wine regions in the world. Tuscan wines are rich in history and flavor with each wine telling a different story. Some rich and complex, some balanced and simple, wines from Tuscany are sure to pair well with many of our authentic Italian dishes.

ROSSO DI MONTALCINO “BABY BRUNELLO”

Sometimes thought of as brunello di Montalcino’s younger sibling, Rosso di Montalcino is a lighter, fruitier, less complex wine. Usually made from grapes from younger vineyards in Montalcino. Rosso’s can most often require less aging and become much more palatable in less time.

BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO "THE KING"

Brunello is Tuscany's most revered wine. With complex aromas and flavors of blackberry, black cherry and black raspberry accompanied by hints of chocolate, violet and leather, Brunello is a wine that requires a longer aging than most Italian wines. With proper aging Brunello takes on a stunning elegance and suppleness that makes it a great wine to drink with a hearty meal.

FRENCH WINES

France produces more fine wines than any other country in the world. French wine making techniques, viticultural practices, even French grape varieties have been adopted by wine regions around the world. French wine has been and largely remains the benchmark against which greatness elsewhere is judged.

OREGON PINOT NOIR

The cool climate of Oregon keeps the grape from ripening too quickly, resulting in wines that have higher acidity and a balance of alcohol content. Often bursting with red fruits like cranberries and cherries, Oregon Pinot Noirs also show the earthy spiced characteristics the grape is known for.

CALIFORNIA CABERNET SAUVIGNON

California Cabernet Sauvignon is often quite rich, dense and tannic. Very ripe berry fruits and currants predominate in younger wines, slowly aging to a complex bouquet of earth and spice over time.
